Narberth Women to Entertain Delegates Of Neighbor Clubs

Annual Reciprocity Luncheon to Be Big Event of Next Week

MISS HARSHAW TO SING

Margaret Harshaw, Narberth girl who gained national recognition when she sang last Sunday over WJZ on the Metropolitan Opera auditions, will sing the third successive year for the Women's Community Club of Narberth at their reciprocity luncheon for presidents of neighboring club Tuesday at 12:30 at Green Hill Farms.

Miss Harshaw, who is now Mrs. Oskar Eichna, of Brooklyn, will open the luncheon by singing the Lord's Prayer. Her program will include a group of German Lieder songs and one of American songs. She will be accompanied by Miss Margaret Squier, well-known music instructor of Narberth. Miss Harshaw, who specialized in German music at the Juillard School in New York and who sang on a program in Rochester with Jose Iturbi in March, has a rich, full, beautifully trained contralto voice.

Guests of the club who will be introduced by the club president, Mrs. E. W. Heymann, are: Mrs. Charles R. Ridington, first vice-president-at-large of the Pennsylvania Federation; Mrs. John Nichols Adey, president of the Montgomery county Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. John D. The hospitality committee will be hostesses for the day, with Mrs. J. D. Sutherland in charge of the luncheon and Mrs. J. E. Burrell of reservations, which must be in to her by Sunday, November 13.

Political Pot

The Republican victory Tuesday was preceded by many last minute rallies. Probably the most outstanding gathering was that held in Ardmore Monday night when Main Line Democrats heard Governor Earle deliver his final campaign speech. A parade and military display, with a drum and bugle corps capturing main attention, were forerunners of the rally.

Members of the Young Republican Club of Narberth received election returns via radio and enjoyed a party, dance and refreshments while doing so. Members and their friends gathered at the Arcadia election night to await returns.

D. A. R. to Hold Luncheon

The Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter of N. S. D. A. R. will hold a dessert luncheon and meeting on Monday, November 21, at 1 P. M. at the home of Mrs. R. A. Mizner, 101 Woodbine avenue, Narberth. Mrs. J. H. Baker is the co-hostess.

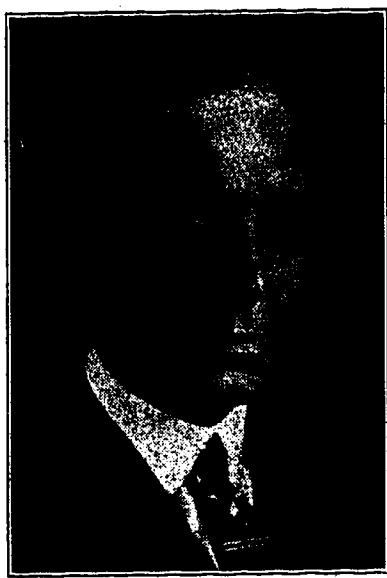

Recreation Board Meets

Playground Improvement Sanctioned

At a meeting of the borough recreation board held last Thursday, approval was given to plans to build another tennis court, to raise the level of existing courts to prevent flooding by rain, and to lengthen the paddle courts.

The board anticipates the purchase of additional playground equipment

Memory to be Honored

The late Charles V. Noel, in whose memory a plaque will be unveiled next month.

Board of Health

The 1939 budget was set at $3000 at the last meeting of the borough Board of Health.

George B. Suppler, health officer, reported one case of mumps and one of chicken pox for the month. Report was also made of the progress of work on the repaving of Windsor avenue and on the installation of the storm sewer on Beechwood lane.

Former Pastor in Collision

Escapes Injury When Autos Crash; Left-Hand Turn Responsible

Rev. John Van Ness, pastor emeritus of Narberth Presbyterian Church, escaped injury in a collision with a machine driven by John Conlin, Philadelphia, on Sunday.

The accident occurred at Montgomery and Woodbine avenues when Dr. Van Ness made a left-hand turn in front of Conlin's car. A third machine was grazed in the mix-up and Conlin's car suffered a broken wheel.

Dr. Town Chosen Will Examine School Students

At the regular monthly meeting of the borough school board held Monday night, Dr. E. C. Town, 200 N. Narberth, was appointed to take charge of medical examinations for borough public school students. Decision was made after Principal Drennen had asked for medical tests in order to maintain a check-up for possible physical defects.

Other business of the meeting included authorization for payment of $15,362.50 tuition to Lower Merion for Narberth students and the purchase of new ventian blinds for the principal's office.

Tap Room Robber Trapped

On October 20 the taproom operated by David Mawhinney, at Montgomery and Brookhurst, was entered and robbed of $26. Now, township police announce apprehension of the culprit.

Jack Rahn, 19, of 119 North Edgemont, Philadelphia, a caddy at Llanerch Country Club, was picked up on suspicion by Patrolman George Potter, of the borough, and has confessed the crime.

Magistrate Walter B. Lownes, Jr., held Rahn in $1000 bail for court on charges of breaking, entering and robbery. The youth admitted having been in the establishment when Mawhinney put money away and having later entered the taproom by breaking glass in a rear door.

Rummage Sale

The borough Parent-Teacher association will hold a rummage sale December 17. Mrs. Haynes F. Darnes, chairman of the finance and budget committee is in charge. Donations of cast-off clothing or other articles may be sent to the school, or will be collected if Mrs. Darnes is notified.

Narberth Players Expect Good Season

"The First Mrs. Fraser" to be Given December 9th and 10th

MANY AT MEETING TUES

In spite of it being election night—and a rainy one—the attendance at the monthly meeting of the Narberth Players, Tuesday evening, was the largest since the Players have been meeting at Elm Hall.

A fine program was enjoyed and the one-act play presentation received a most unusual ovation. Excellent work was done by a cast including Grace Werner, William Hand, Robert Wells and Jean Sutherland.

The guest speaker of the evening was Anthony Wayne Robinson, 3rd, of the Shawnee Players and Alden Guild Players, who plans to move to Narberth this month.

Always an enjoyable feature—community singing—gave everyone a good time. Mrs. Ed Pollack was at the piano and Mat Callahan led the singing.

Announcement was made of the next major production, "The First Mrs. Fraser," by St. John Ervine, to be presented December 9 and 10—instead of December 2 and 3.

A number of new members were accepted and prospects for the coming years are most encouraging.

The speaker enlightened his description of the scope of the job with personal experiences encountered in the course of his duties.

Motor Registrations in Mail

Applications for 1939 motor vehicle registration plates went into the mail from Harrisburg this week. Negligence in reporting change in address will result in failure to obtain applications, since law prohibits forwarding of the same to the new address.

State law requires filing of notice of change of address with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Harrisburg, within 48 hours of its occurrence. Blanks for recording this change may be obtained from magistrates, notaries, or direct from the department.

Rabid Dogs Reported

The township Board of Health has received reports that two dogs under suspicion tested rabid. Owners of the dogs are Frank W. Cortright, 116 Wynnedale, Narberth, and Gordon Smith, 31 Snowden, Cynwyd.

Since both dogs had been quarantined in veterinary hospitals, it is believed that neither had any contact with other pets.

To Unveil Plaque in Memory of C. V. Noel

Memorial is Work of Student at the Barnes Foundation

COMMITTEE IS FORMING

Unveiling of a bronze plaque in memory of Charles V. Noel will occur at Elm Hall on Monday, December 26, 1938, which is the first anniversary of the Fire Chief's death.

A committee is being organized for the formal occasion which is planned and it is expected there will be a numerous attendance.

The plaque was conceived by Dr. Albert C. Barnes, who delegated its execution to Marcella Brouda, now an advanced student at the Barnes Foundation, having previously pursued her art studies in Philadelphia and Europe. Her work has been exhibited in many of the leading art centers in America.

The present plaque is described as a particular triumph in the extraordinary discernment which has been achieved.

Engrossed resolutions will also be presented.

Mr. Noel's death, while actively engaged in fighting a Narberth fire, brought to a close a long and valuable career as a leader in the community. As leader of the Republican forces in Narberth, fire chief and borough secretary, he had filled a large place in community affairs.

Please Remove the $1000 Bills at Once

New Main Line telephone directories will be delivered in Narberth and vicinity next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, it was announced today by Donald M. Huber, district manager for the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

The new issue contains 468 pages and 75 men will distribute 36,000 copies to subscribers in the Narberth, Ardmore, Berwyn, Bryn Mawr, Cynwyd, Malvern, Merion, Newtown Square, Paoli and Wayne exchange areas.

"Because hundreds of new and changed numbers appear in the new edition, considerable time will be saved if telephone users refer to the book before placing calls, Mr. Powell explained.

"Telephone directories now in use will be collected. It might be well for subscribers to look through the pages of their old books," Mr. Huber cautioned. "Money and valuable papers are sometimes placed in telephone books during their months of usage."

Township Building is Close to That of 1937

Nearly a half million dollars in new building was started in Lower Merion Township last month, according to a report by C. E. Rahn, superintendent of building inspection.

October's construction brought the total for the year to $4,202,865, a slight increase over the same ten-month period of 1937. A total of 129 permits were issued in October.

Two apartment buildings are to cost $153,000. Eight single family dwellings amounted to $129,500. Permits for alterations and additions total $20,465. Permits for oil burning equipment total $22,296.

The district summary showed the largest number of permits were issued for the North Ardmore district, which also led in the amount of valuations, $165,614. In other districts:

Planners Ponder Parking Problem

Borough Commission Told Merits of 30-Minute Law

B. G. Simpson, chairman of the Narberth Planning Commission, stated at the meeting of the commission on Monday evening that general co-operation should be expected in the observance of the new parking regulations in the business section.

Mr. Simpson pointed out that the allotted time should be ample for ordinary shopping needs and that when a longer time was required by citizens for special purposes, cars should be parked in those areas where no restrictions have been made.

The proper spirit, according to Chairman Simpson, would result in the use of the limited spaces on Haverford avenue being made available to many more patrons of the stores, and therefore add to the greater convenience of the community-at-large.

The Planning Commission program includes practically all features of community construction and many proposed changes are receiving studied attention.

'Y' Groups Organize New Life in New Management

The Main Line Y. M. C. A., recently reorganized and reopened at Ardmore, is receiving numerous requests to assist in the starting of young people's groups.

E. W. Barnes, secretary, reports that a group of girls and young women interested in the study of interior decorating and sewing has already met to lay plans for a club. Another group, with purpose to train leaders for discussion, organized last night.

The "Y" plans to aid groups, church and otherwise, social to choral, in organizing and will be glad to take care of calls for help on problems of such clubs.

Youths Fined

In an effort to extricate his car which was mired in soft ground, Stanley Baginski, West Conshohocken, tore down and made use of a large sign on the estate of John A. Lafore, Penn Valley. At the township police station, the youth was fined $6.00 for malicious mischief and ordered to have the sign repaired and rehung.

Two men arrested by Lower Merion police, charged with drunken driving, were sentenced in county court last week. They are: Joseph Boyle, fined $100 and costs; James M. Gain, Paxinos, fined $200 and also sentenced to four months in jail.

Lower Merion and Narberth Favor G. O. P. Candidates by More Than 10,000

The French captured Paris with flying colors Tuesday when the Main Line and Montgomery county returned to the old-time Republican margins.

Districts which had wavered or gone Democratic in the State battle four years ago swung back to the traditional proportions of four-to-one or higher. Lower Merion gave Arthur H. James a plurality of 9251; Narberth 1545.

Only in South Ardmore No. 2 and West Manayunk did the Democrats fare better than two-to-one underdogs, and the vote was far from close in those districts. Ticket splitting was practically non-existent—even Haverford, the home of Governor George H. Earle, split only to the extent of less than a dozen votes in his favor as compared with the ticket.

Cynwyd, with pluralities of nearly eight to one, and the only district to give the Republicans more than 1000 votes, was the outstanding local example of G. O. P. power.

Narberth turned in whacking totals of 2011 for James to 496 for Jones; 2023 for Davis to 486 for Earle, and nearly identical totals for the rest of the ballot.

Senator Davis led the ticket in Lower Merion, polling a total of 12,602 votes in the 18 voting precincts to 3161 for Earle in the Senate contest.

Judge James followed closely with a total vote of 12,520 to 3269 for Jones. Congressman J. William Ditter polled 12,539 to 3281 for his Democratic opponent, Carroll L. Rutter.

Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Republican candidate for State Senator, received a similar majority over Francis R. Taylor, receiving 12,535 votes to 3227 for Taylor.

Lambert Cadwallader, of Villanova, representative in the General Assembly from the First legislative district, polled 12,526 votes in Lower Merion, to 3226 for Joseph G. Kane, Democrat, of Bridgeport.

Samuel S. Lewis, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, polled 12,489 votes to 3250 for Leo C. Mundy.

William S. Livengood, Jr., candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, received 12,453 votes to 3288 for Thomas A. Logue.

The G. O. P. carried all three voting districts in the Borough by wide margins, getting out a high percentage of the registered vote. Heaviest voting took place in the Second district, where the Republican gubernatorial candidate received 901 votes to 175 for his opponent.

Congressman Ditter received 2008 votes in the three districts of the Borough to 502 for his opponent, Carroll L. Rutter.

Franklin Spencer Edmonds polled 2010 to 502 for Francis R. Taylor.

Lambert Cadwallader received 2007 votes to 504 for Joseph G. Kane.

For Lieutenant Governor, Samuel S. Lewis had 1989 to 495 for Leo C. Mundy.

For Secretary of Internal Affairs, William S. Livengood, Jr., polled 1998 to 506 for Thomas A. Logue.

Cherry Lane Woods to be Built Up

Haunt of Scouts Will be Split Into Lots

Scouts and nature lovers who have found the Charles Keith tract on Cherry lane, Wynnewood, a rendezvous for bird and plant study, to say nothing of doggie roasts, will miss that woods. McMullin and McMullin, brokers, report the sale of the property to Frank H. Wilson, Ardmore builder, who will sub-divide the land into two-acre sites. The tract had been in the possession of the Keith family for more than 50 years. It contains 24 acres and is heavily wooded, rolling land with several beautiful streams running through. Many a scout has practiced fire making here, to say nothing of camping out.

The Vacant Chair—Today

Normally the talented chap who had reached the age of 29 in 1914 would have been specializing in his field. Today would find him, at the age of 44, an architect, educator, scientist, mercantile business leader, government official, at the peak of his career.

In 1914, however, the intelligent, healthy chap wasn't specializing in his field. The keenest, the most brilliant, the more promising, the more certain was he to be found in the service, pushed to the front to be slaughtered, or, horribly maimed.

Today, a generation of potential geniuses has multiplied in Europe. True, many of the alert and intelligent did return and, men that they are, took up again their posts in civil life. Where then lies the trouble? Just herein, that there are not half enough of them left, hard as they work, to fill all the important places.

What happened to our country, happened to others. A lot of the cream from the top of the bottle has been poured down the drain. The little that's left is still good cream, but can't begin to bring the rest of the bottle up to par. Is it any wonder that the whole of civilization is unbalanced? The old world needs patience—a heap of patience and a lot of hard work.

Shop Talk

This week's edition of Town and Township is a tribute to the cooperative, news-gathering enjoyed by this community paper. It comes to you as something unique—a paper without an editor. This gap in editorial direction occurs because of the resignation of the previous pilot before the appointment of a successor.

To reorganize the publishing staff, and assist the citizens' committee in its task of designing and putting into production the larger paper which is being created, the committee has drafted Philip A. Livingston, publisher of Our Town for 17 years, as advisor and acting editor for a period of a few weeks.

Beginning next Monday the selection of a permanent staff, and the establishment of an attractive and readable style of writing and printing will be worked out. Suggestions from readers will be appreciated.

The annual drive for funds for the American Red Cross is on. Helpers in the campaign for membership on the Main Line include 500 volunteers. All money received in the enrollment will go for emergency work and first aid. This worthwhile organization needs and merits all possible support.

Next Year a Big One

"Nineteen-thirty-nine will be the best year for business and industry in a decade." That sentence accurately sums up the views of numerous economic forecasters today. In their opinion, the recovery movement, which was staggering and uncertain when it began seven or eight months ago, will continue to gain both in strength and velocity.

The forecasters, of course, have been wrong before, and grievously so. But it is a fact that at present opinion amazingly is unanimous as to the pleasant prospects ahead for the immediate future. You can and many an authority who is dueling with the long term outlook, can't see any reason to believe that government's stimulative pump priming activities are going to cause the country plenty of trouble in your shortly ahead. But you'll have a hard job finding an authority who doubts that next year will be the most prosperous since the depression began. As the conservative, Amherst, puts it, "Recovery shows no signs of slackening."

Unscratched

REV. JOHN VAN NESS, acting minister of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, who was elected to the vacant chair today.

Biggest recent optimistic news was the announcement of a tremendous spending drive by the nation's electric utilities. Representatives of fourteen major systems met with the President in Washington and, as an AP dispatch phrases it, "And a display of friendliness which left the capital guessing." announced a far-reaching program to strengthen national defense and stimulate industry by expanding private power facilities. Details involve spending at least $2,000,000 in the next two years, a sum double the recent rate of capital expenditure by the industry, and buying sufficient equipment to add 1,330,000 horsepower to existing capacity. And this, it is said, is only the first stage if plans go through as scheduled, still greater expansion will follow.

Excellent augury is the automobile industry's rapid emergence from the economic doghouse. The severe shutdown in production that took place last spring and summer was a strong depression factor. By the same token, the unlooked for improvement in production and demand now, which has caused some makers to change their plans and embark on more elaborate ventures than they thought wise even a few months ago, is a strong recovery factor. Important by product in this field has been a substantial amount of high-wage re-employment.

In brief, the barometers give the commentator every reason for being bullish today. There may be minor setbacks—especially in security values, where considerable profit-taking at intervals is to be expected. But it seems certain that next year will be as good as any year since 1930—and in all probability better.

MAIN LINE KIWANISANS

Annual Election of Officers Will be Held November 29

The following list of nominees for officers and directors of the Main Line Kiwanis Club, to be voted on at the annual meeting, Tuesday evening, November 29, has been announced:

At Tuesday night's meeting an impromptu program was given by the members, no guest speaker having been scheduled on account of election.

It will be interesting to see the outcome of the bribery and graft charges now under investigation by the State legislature.

HOPES and HAPPENINGS

Thomas Elwood has departed the Editor's job, of his own decision and accord, and with the best wishes from all concerned, to take up a city task of large importance, where his unquestioned skill in publicity and apt expression will have a broader field.

In the new venture his prestige and meane will inevitably increase, as it should, for our friend has been interested exceedingly well and thus community should be mindful of the faithful and fruitful service which he rendered it.

He will continue to live amongst us and, after the way of his splendid sort, he will be alert to do his full share and more in those things which call for a united front or in those individual cases where his considerate and effective help has always made a noteworthy mark.

In the meantime, and to preserve the old traditions, Philip Livingston has been induced to take the helm, according to Philip, or possibly, according to us. In any event the paper will proceed apace in a progressive way and in due course will be given of the new place which are in process to make the house a still more useful and at times, neighborhood facility.

The ownership will be vested in a corporation, to be called the Main Line Publishing Company, the charter of which is now being secured by Roland Fleer, and it is hoped that there will be many more purchases of the stock at $10 per share, for there is a better chance of community action than to support one's convictions with one's cash.

So far enough commitments have been made to acquire local ownership, but our National Bank of Narberth had to be drafted to help accomplish that, which demonstrates again the need of having an aggressive financial institution hereabouts, and Mr. Metzger and his directors should be commended for the substantial aid they accorded.

This does not mean that the bank was asked to hand out the money with out reference to the usual safeguards and assurance of repayment, as amplification and guaranty were, of course, tendered, with a reduction in the note being made each month. Nevertheless, there should be public recognition of the fact that the Bank apparently saw in the spirit of the occasion almost an exact parallel to those circumstances which resulted in its own existence and its subsequent impressive growth, hence its refreshing consent to the loan when the request was first presented to it.

So far the project is on a self-supporting basis, having three dollars in cash and accounts for every dollar it owes, and its debt to the bank is only about 20% of its franchise worth as such values are reckoned by the newspaper fraternity. It is not intended, however, that the enterprise shall be regarded as a "money-maker" in the usual sense, as whatever "profits" are made can better be used for the paper itself, after fair salaries are paid those employed daily in its production, and so your subscription for the non-assessable stock should be made with the understanding that your certificates will have 100% par value, with dividends, if any, a matter of the far distant future.

In plainer words, you are asked to express your belief in your home section by putting at its service a few non-earning dollars, 1, 2 or 5 shares, $10 each, and thus become part of that segment of the neighborhood which always brings good things to pass and which can be depended upon to protect that whole scheme of civic, cultural and material values which are necessary to a reasonably well-ordered existence.

It should also be said the paper will proceed without "control," neither financial, political, nor otherwise, an impartial basis which Roland Fleer will carefully assure in the documents which he is formulating, altogether an endeavor which will be of the ilk of the many fine things which have happened in this section, and this matter of a truly cooperative community newspaper can be made an achievement of unique success if the solicitude for it develops in a manner commensurate with its excellent opportunities.

Subscribe for one share if it is not convenient to pay for more, and do what you can to assure the widespread ownership (and interest) which ought to be.

Around the Town

Now that election day is over, the next excitement in line will be the carving of the Thanksgiving turkey!

Miss Suzanne Jortt Gail, 216 Dudley, has just received word that she has qualified by state board examinations as a teacher and lecturer on beauty culture. Mrs. Gail, treasurer of the Philadelphia chapter of cosmeticians, is vice-president of the cosmeticians of America.

Improvements to a portion of the firehouse was approved at a meeting of the board of directors. Held Monday, Plans include: repainting of the building, of the "Little Theatre."

Monday evening found the nation at moon-gazing. The total eclipse was an unusual one because of the fact that the moon rose directly on the earth's shadow. For two miles, the cause of the hazy atmosphere, a Little after 5 P. M., it appeared as a large copper-colored disk well up from the horizon. Gradually it mounted the sky, keeping behind the moon until 6:05 P. M., when the upper left corner first showed signs of redness. By 7:15 the moon had fully come was out again in all its glory. One observer wanted to see both the moon and the sun in the sky at the same time, but was disappointed but did not give up, as he saw the unusually beautiful partial eclipse.

Much excitement did the delivery men, several delivery boys, a few passers-by, and a milk truck, the corner grocery store with a cat to the fire house the morning after election. Paddles and sticks were to be seen, a chase was on! The cat, brought to render assistance, ran the other way, but not so the delivery boys. With much shouting and flourish of weapons, they descended into the alley. When the crowd had cleared, in the rush it was impossible to obtain the hero's name, one large well-fed rat lay cold upon the pavement.

At a special session, the borough council purchased a new Ford coupe to replace one now in use by the police department. A radio sending set will be installed and the receiving set transferred from the old car.

They Take Pride in Their Jobs

Wherever you find telephone men and women and talk with them for a while, you'll notice these things:

A certain pride in the job they're doing. A feeling that it's part of an important service to the community and the nation. A desire to do the job the best they know how.

You'll notice, too, a strong sense of loyalty to their company and a sincere friendliness that has made "the voice with a smile" something more than a famous phrase. Perhaps all this is best summed up in another famous phrase—"the spirit of service." All America knows what that means. It has been demonstrated in fire, flood and storm—and in your everyday telephone service, the finest in the world.

The more you use your telephone service, the more it is worth to you. Let it help you do your shopping, run your errands, speed up your business affairs and keep you in touch with friends and family everywhere. The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

An exceptional display of motion picture entertainment, replete with thrills and human interest, is in store for Main Liners this week.

Heading the program at the Narberth Theater this week-end is "Alexander's Ragtime Band," a first-rate picture starring Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche. You'll like the story of the violin-playing maestro who rises from the handiness of a tenderloin saloon in San Francisco to the white tie acclaim of New York's Carnegie Hall, and those well-loved melodies from the pen of Irving Berlin will revive cherished memories of the years gone by. If you enjoy a well-directed picture and if you want to listen once more to the music you used to dance to when swing was called ragtime, you had better miss "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

"Valley of the Giants" arrives at the Narberth on Monday, bringing you Wayne Morris and Gale Page. It is an action-packed epic in Technicolor of California's redwood forest and of the men and women who fought for them.

On Wednesday and Thursday the Narberth presents "Four Daughters," a warm story of a very human family. You'll thrill to the loves and problems of the four sisters and you'll acclaim the screen debut of John Garfield in "Golden Boy" fame. "Spawn of the North," a thrilling saga of the Alaskan wilderness, is the picture at the Narberth next week-end. Henry Fonda, Dorothy Lamour, John Barrymore and Alan Tarrantell join forces to make exciting entertainment.

The Egyptian Theater presents for week-end consumption "Too Hot to Handle" with Clark Gable and Myrna Loy. It is a fast moving story of a newspaper columnist. In addition the attractions will cavort in the fourth lap of the contest this Friday at nine o'clock. A Pete Smith specialty, "Football Thrills," rounds out the program. There is a special matinee Friday, Armistice Day, at 2:15.

Warbling Bing Crosby comes to the Egyptian this Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in "Sing You Sinners." For company Bing has Fred MacMurray and ten-year-old Donald O'Connor, who shows Bing how "Small Fry" should be sung.

Next Friday "Boys' Town" comes to town for a six-day engagement at the Egyptian. Starring Spencer

Tracy and Mickey Rooney, this picture brings to light the real life story of what one man with an ideal has done to mould boys of the slums into useful citizens. It presents the heartening story of a successful experiment in social conscientiousness.

Penn Valley Home Sold

Durbin and Howard, realtors, report the sale for Provident Mutual life insurance company of a 3-story stone dwelling, farmhouse type, 2-car garage, located on the southwest corner of Bryn Mawr avenue and Broadacres, Penn Valley, to H. D. Attig. Settlement has been made.

(Concluding a contribution from Lester Peters, veteran Narberth mailman, on the highlights of his career.)

To chase monotony away a mailman asks for nothing more than to see the expectant smile of someone looking for a letter from a loved one. And we should we offer a bill or advertising letter instead.

The mail is full of joy and pain, and countless times we have the pleasures and sorrows of those we serve. Sometimes we bring a party or wedding invitation; again, we are messengers of sickness and death.

Often must your mailman be a rare diplomat. When one cheats on a hobby, or wife, the mailman must be careful to whom he hands specific letters after the offending party enlists his confidence. When mother runs over her allowance, and a bill for the new hat comes through, he must see to it that Mr. gets that bill and not Dad! Or perhaps Dad passed a bill, a sum of money, and a family spat is averted by the mailman's quietly slipping the note to Dad.

Then there is the apartment dweller, who knows but one reply to a postman's ring: "Bring it up" maybe two, maybe three fights. Being responsible for his bag of mail, the mailman must have the whole load, never leaving, of course, of climbing apartment stairs, since he walks only fifty to a hundred miles a day, with thirty-five to fifty pounds on his back!

The writer, a resident since 1909, has seen Narberth grow into a highly desirable community.

News Notes From the Narberth Public Schools

In assembly on the fourth of November, Art Week, the director of the Bryn Mawr Art Center, Mr. Maubly Kimball, gave us a talk and demonstration of the characteristics in art. He drew a few sketches which turned out to be very pretty and interesting. He also showed us the way colors should harmonize. Many of the different examples of harmonizing colors were very beautiful. His talk was a very interesting one, and we enjoyed it very much.

This is American Education Week. Friday, November 11, will be "Open House" in the school. Parents are invited to come to the school and visit the classes. There will be an appropriate Armistice Day service at 12:35 P. M., in assembly. Rev. Keighton will be the American Legion representative and will talk to us.

On October 28 a negro quartet, the Dixie Melody Masters, visited us and had charge of our assembly program. They sang many of the negro spirituals and other songs of the South. Among the many songs they sang were: "Shortnin' Bread," "Dixie," "Old Man River," "Water Boy."

They were very interesting and we enjoyed them very much. Mr. Drennen also told us that the Dixie Melody Masters sang the wedding music during the "Amos and Andy" radio program two years ago when Amos married Ruby Taylor.

Girl Scouts

This year we have three patrols. Roberta Parke is the leader of the First patrol, Grace Colohan is the leader of the Second; Peggy Henshaw is in charge of the Third. We had a Halloween party. Each girl brought a friend. The First patrol brought candy, the Second brought drinks, the Third cakes. A good time was had by everyone.

WINIFRED McHALE, Scribe, Troop 47

Narberth Troop 125 did not have a meeting Monday, October 31, because so many of the girls had Halloween parties.

During the meeting held on November 7, chip carving instructions were given by the captain, Miss Lucille Baker. The Scouts experimented with different designs and learned how to go about it on small pieces of wood. Later they will work with designs on real wooden articles which may be used as gifts. The girls enjoyed practicing this craft and expect to have something worthwhile to show at later meetings.

The rest of the evening was spent playing several lively games.

EUGENIA THAYSEN, Scribe.

Because his feet were tired a Chicago postman threw away letters instead of delivering them. Disclaiming worldly goods to save his sole, no doubt.

ly desirable community. Though it has often been spoken ill of, undoubtedly those same speakers enjoy its baseball games, playground, library, churches, schools, business services, and a long-established post office.

Narberth is a wholesome community, and no one's reputation is damaged by reason of using its name or facilities. Boundary lines, so far as the mailman is concerned, are a continual source of annoyance. The post office is no respecter of purely local boundaries of communities. Much unnecessary confusion could be avoided if folks would submerge petty pride over fancy names, and have, instead, their parcels, letters and friends locate them by using good old Narberth.

The standing joke among mail carriers is that individual who rents a home in some nearby community, and becomes indignant when she or he finds the post office address is Narberth, and not some seemingly more select designation.

One fails to see in what respect a post office address either adds to or subtracts from social prestige, culture or physical well-being, not enjoyed by one now living within our estimable community.

Quality is an individual attribute, not a title gained by manipulation of zoning ordinances. So, perhaps it would be better to give the High Hat a rest, and not insult the mailman by inquiring ironically if one's mail comes from Narberth.

The Bounding Main

BY A. S. J.

The scene changes to November as we observe that the countryside has a new "hair-do," patterned on the brushed up mode but the leaves aren't all brushed up yet. Hunting season is open, and we find the familiar sight of the hunter and his dog returning from the fields, gun over one shoulder, a pheasant or quail over the other. The football teams have got their teeth into the season now, but still providing enough upsets to drive the poolsters crazy. The days are getting shorter; the commuters walk home from their trains in the dark, and brood on the peacefulness of the post-election calm. Even the moon is no longer eclipsed.

The election air was full of reverberations of one sort and another. Our main line environs, however, being of a more or less peaceful turn of mind, and a predisposition to be one-party-ish, voted calmly and without fuss. But they marked their X's vehemently, and arrived in droves at the polls. Nothing would stop them; they came by foot, and by car. One gentleman, Andrew King, well-known inventor and Penn Valley resident, arrived on a stretcher to prove that even disability could not prevent his casting his vote.

One of the most surprising election stories we heard was of a woman in Coatesville, whose twins, born on November 7, were to receive the names of the winning candidates. We suppose by now the infants are duly labeled Jacqueline Davis Kurtz, and Arthur James Kurtz. It sounds to us like an election bet, with an uncomfortable degree of permanence about it, unless Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz happened to be good friends of one of the candidates; but even so, they would run the risk of the wrong fellow's winning. But perhaps they liked both names, purely objectively, as names, and took no risk in letting the election make their choice for them. It is interesting to conjecture which of the candidates they cast their votes for, and whether the preference was because of the names or the records of the men. Later in their lives, Jacqueline and Arthur will have trouble hiding their ages, for someone with a political memory or reference book can instantly date them.

Now that the election is over, we wonder what will be left to harrass the newspaper reader and radio listener. They haven't even a Martian war scare to their names. But life goes on, and something else will turn up to interest them, and be the scapegoat for the well-known phrase: "That's why business is bad this week." And so it goes.

Charles H. Woodward Named General Chairman of Campaign to Start Dec. 2

Charles H. Woodward, prominent Philadelphia attorney, will act as general chairman of the Y. M. C. A. Redemption and Liberation Fund Campaign, which will be launched for a two-week period on December 2 for a goal of $1,750,000, according to an announcement by Charles S. Walton, Jr., president of the Philadelphia Young Men's Christian Association.

The campaign is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. Citizens' Committee, composed of more than 150 well-known business and professional men of greater Philadelphia, under the chairmanship of John E. Zimmermann.

Other leaders of the Redemption and Liberation Fund Campaign who will assist Chairman Woodward in directing the several divisions of the "Y" drive were announced by President Walton as follows: Robert Dechert and Archie D. Swift, co-chairmen of the Advanced Gifts Division; Harry J. Haas, chairman of the General Division Volunteer Workers; Daniel A. Poling, D.D., chairman in charge of Clergy Co-operation; Emile C. Geyelin, chairman of Personnel and Lists; Frank A. Bedford, chairman of the Speakers' Division; John Haney, chairman of Publicity; George H. Stuart, 3rd, treasurer of the campaign, and Lester C. Haworth, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Scouts Get Big Gift

A gift from Mr. and Mrs. Waite Phillips, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, of 35,857 acres of land a few miles northwest of Cimarron, New Mexico, and $50,000 to be used in improving and developing the land for camping purposes, has been accepted yesterday by the Executive Board of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, at its meeting in New York City.

Mulieres Next Monday

The Mulieres will meet Monday at 2:00 P. M., in Elm Hall. Officers will be elected. The Nominating Committee consists of Mrs. W. R. O'Sullivan, Mrs. Charles Viguers, Mrs. Clifford W. Bates.

NOVEMBER the 8th was the last day for the "hot blasts." Prepare now for the cold ones that come regularly every Winter. The safest way is to have STORM SASH made and installed for the cold exposure windows and an Enclosure built for your main entrance. These will make you comfortable.

Added pleasure may be obtained from Radiator Covers, Bookshelves, Kitchen Cabinets and at the bottom of all—a Basement Recreation Room.

Musical Musings

By JOSEPH E. BARONE
Listening to Music

True, we all respond to music differently, depending on the extent of our technical backgrounds. However, from an objective point of view, there are four ways in which music appeals to us, namely, to our feelings, to our emotions, to our intellect, and to our subconscious mind. Obviously, there may be a combination of several of these elements in a single composition, but generally one predominates.

For example, serene music demands little or no concentration on any act as a balm to our feelings, a principle which the psychiatrist readily accepts and employs. On the other hand, martial music played by a military band is interesting chiefly because of its stirring qualities. Phrases of the soothing type of music include "Clair de Lune" by Debussy, and the Prelude to Act III of Wagner's "Die Meistersinger"; the stimulating type, "Rakoczy March" by Berlioz.

All music which has a definite program appeals to our emotions, for here the composer's keenest feelings are realized in a scene, and our response depends chiefly on our recognition of the subject. In this category we find "Dance Macabre" by Saint-Saens; "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" and Beethoven's "Pastoral Symphony."

Abstract compositions, such as symphonies, quartets, sonatas, and fugues, appeal to our intellect, and here our enjoyment is in direct proportion to our own technical background. Here a thorough knowledge of harmony, counterpoint, form, and history is most necessary, for while we may enjoy the superficial effects produced on us, the real values are almost entirely musical ones. Fine examples here are the "Tocata and Fugue in D minor" by Bach; Brahms' first symphony and Beethoven's quartet in F, Op. 135.

And while our enjoyment of most music is spontaneous and direct, we sometimes enjoy a composition for the association of thoughts it stimulates subconsciously. For instance, in listening to "Clair de Lune," we undoubtedly find the melody and harmony very intriguing, and with little effort we could also visualize a "moonlight night." But we might also find, upon suddenly analyzing our ideas in the midst of its performance, that we may be enjoying it for an entirely different train of thoughts, and that the music was merely an incidental accompaniment.

As mentioned above, there may be a combination of several of these appeals in any one composition. As for instance, Frank A. Bedford, chairman of the Speakers' Division; John Haney, chairman of Publicity; George H. Stuart, 3rd, treasurer of the campaign, and Lester C. Haworth, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Harvey Harman, local resident and Rutgers' coach, was back of the 20-18 upset of Princeton Saturday. For the first time since 1869, Rutgers quelled the Tigers. Harman took plenty of cracks as Penn's coach when that team failed to come through. Now maybe some of his tormentors will stop hounding and give him the credit due. We hope so though to the public it's always the coach's fault when a team loses, but the team's when it wins. Sort of cock-eyed, isn't it?

When 10,000 fans turn out to see a high school football game, high school football "ain't what it used to be." That many witnessed the Norristown-L. M. game when two unbeaten teams clashed. The story, however, was an old one—both teams good, but one just a little better than the other.

Muhlenberg's victory over Drexel put that team in the lead for the championship of the eastern Pennsylvania collegiate conference. Those in the know predict a tie at the end of the season.

News Bits

From the Main Line Y. M. C. A.

Misses Marie H. Ferwerda, Alice Josephsen and Helen Barr were chosen last Tuesday evening as the Steering Committee of the first group of Main Line young women interested in dress-making and home furnishing. These groups will be operated in co-operation with the Singer Sewing Machine Company. All equipment and instruction are furnished without extra cost to the girls. The first course will run for ten weeks and will meet in Ardmore on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 o'clock.

In order to secure adequate personal instruction the groups will be limited to 6 or 8 each. Similar sewing groups can be arranged in Wayne, Merion, or other points upon request. The girls registered in the first group are: Alice Josephsen and Helen Barr, of Wayne, and Sally Green, Margaret Stillwagon and Marie Ferwerda, of Ardmore.

Thursday night a group of young people, many of them from the young people's societies of the various churches, met at the Main Line "Y" to consider the formation of a Leadership training group in "The Art of Discussion." This ten-week course will make available to young people guidance in the skills needed to lead a successful discussion meeting dealing with social problems, politics, religion, cultural study or other human interests. All who are interested will be welcome in this study group.

The Main Line "Y," through its Group Work Committee, chaired by Don Pryor, of Wayne, has offered assistance in developing "Listening Groups" of young people in connection with the National Town Meeting of the Air Program. The broadcasts began Thursday, November 10, at 9:30, over WJZ, with the topic "Where Will the Munich Settlement Lead?" Speakers included General Hugh S. Johnson, Anne O'Hare McCormick and Felix Morley. Main Line groups which affiliate with this Town Meeting will receive through the Main Line "Y" suggested readings each week, and will organize with a leader so that local discussion will be a part of each session. Meeting places will be arranged in accordance with the convenience of each group.
